So here is some interesting reading. Bob Ross's lawsuit is not going well for him and now he is fighting against discovery taking place and is afraid of being deposed. For someone who claims the truth will all come out in court he sure seems afraid of getting facts on the record.

Here he wants to push discovery back all the way until next year. He explicitly says he wants to wait until after the APFA national elections. Guess he wants pro corruption candidates to win. Oddly he talks about he, Eugenio Vargas and Nena Martin running. Too bad for him, Ross and Vargas are banned for life for running.

2023, counsel's immediate family were directed to reduce as much exposure to the public as possible until the end of 2023.

² As previously noted to the Court, APFA continues to pursue Nena Martin and Marcy Dunaway by ordering an additional audit of their expenses within the last two months. These audits are based on a union member's request for the audits in October of 2022. The member who requested these audits is Melissa Chinery-Burns, the wife of AFA General Counsel, Joe Burns, from the competing union. APFA waited for almost a full year before conducting the audit of Nena Martin and Marcy Dunaway. APFA also waited out the discovery period before seeking to confer and ultimately demand depositions of Plaintiff, now noticed for the final week of the discovery period. Most notably, December is when new candidates, like Nena Martin, Robert "Bob" Ross, and Eugenio Vargas, will announce their intent to run for National Office next year. Elections are voted on throughout the month of January therefore, potential harm in stifling the free speech and the democratic election process within the union heavily outweighs the potential benefit of holding depositions within October of 2023. Rather extending the discovery period to accommodate the conflicts with discovery, and properly scheduling depositions after January seems the reasonable approach in the interest of preserving the integrity of the union's electoral process. Depositions should be scheduled in the month of February to avoid any possible effect on the democratic procedures within the union.

[REDACTED] Bob specifically is wanting the judgement against him running to be removed. And it's in court documents that 5 people wrote him in and they were notified he was ineligible. But again, he's asking to be allowed to run.

Re: Mandatory Meeting and Withhold from Service

Dear [REDACTED]

I have scheduled a mandatory meeting for us on TUESDAY, 05DEC23, at 15:00EST in the BOS INFIGHT CONFERENCE ROOM to discuss a performance matter. You have been withheld from service with pay 05DEC23-06DEC23 to ensure your attendance at this meeting.

If you would like APFA representation, please contact your local APFA representative(s) to advise them of the date, time, and location of your meeting. Please be advised that failure to attend this meeting may result in the day being converted to a withhold without pay and/or disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

As a reminder, while you are withheld from service you are not permitted to use any team member travel privileges, and it is against Company policy and unfair to other flight attendants to bid or trade for trips that conflict with the days you are pay withheld at any time after the date of this letter.

In addition, the Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential program that can help team members find solutions to personal challenges. If you would like to reach out to EAP, you may contact the Company's EAP representative at 833-721-2322 or APFA's EAP representative at 833-214-2002.

Should you have any questions, feel free to contact me at (617) 874-9291.

Sincerely,

When engaging on social media platforms, it's important to remember that whatever you post is a reflection of you and American Airlines. As a uniformed or non-uniformed team member, whether posting off duty or on duty, you should be aware of and understand the company's social media policy and that you are accountable for upholding these standards. When being social on social, remember these key points:

1. Be respectful and use good judgement.
 Offensive, disrespectful, discriminatory, hate related or hostile behavior is not acceptable. Many of your friends or connections in your social accounts may also be your colleagues so what you post may be viewed by them or our customers and reflects on you. Your actions online should align with the expectations outlined in our Rules of Conduct, Work Environment Policy and Standards of Business Conduct. If they don't, it could lead to disciplinary action, up to and including separation of employment. It's important to familiarize yourself with what is inappropriate by reviewing these policies.
2. Online is forever, and nothing is private.
 What you publish online will be public for a long time, and while you may think it's private, it isn't. You should not post language, pictures, audio and/or videos that depict you engaging in illegal conduct or in conduct that is inconsistent with our Work Environment Policy and our Rules of Conduct.
3. Do not create company accounts.
 You should not create social media accounts on behalf of the company or that appear to be official company accounts. Only employees who have received written authorization for the company's Social Media team are authorized to operate company-owned social media accounts.
4. Safety is first and always top of mind.
 Whether you are in uniform or out of uniform, around company property or at work locations, keep all safety standards in mind. Avoid posting things that violate or appear to violate safety standards or could put your health or the health of others at risk. Things like sitting on a beverage cart, climbing an engine or overhead bin are just some examples of behaviors that are unsafe. If it makes you pause, you shouldn't do it.
5. Keep confidential, proprietary and private information in the right place.
 Issues with the company or your colleagues should be discussed with those involved and not online or in a public forum. You also shouldn't disclose proprietary, confidential or nonpublic information. Not sure what is or isn't confidential? Check out the Standards of Business Conduct. If in doubt, don't post it.
6. We all have a job to do.
 It can be tempting to try to answer questions about the company or resolve issues online. We get it, but customer issues, media inquiries or legal matters should be left to our Social Media, Corporate Communications and Customer Relations teams. Media and legal inquiries should be directed to mediarelations@aa.com.
7. Avoid use of company materials.
 Company logos, brand images and trademarked items should not be used on personal social media accounts without permission. We want you to be proud of where you work and share great moments with your friends and colleagues. Posting things when in uniform or on company property is fine as long as you are following our Work Environment Policy and our Standards of Business Conduct.
8. More information.
 The Work Environment Policy and Standards of Business Conduct are great resources you should review prior to engaging on social platforms. If you need further guidance, please feel free to contact Team Member Relations.

██████████ Miami Vice President Heidi Morgan publicly revealed my confidential grievance information in a public post. Years ago when she was a union rep I went to her because I wanted to file a NOD on a contract issue related to PBS. She would not help me on it but then publicly talked about it in a post which was just reposted. So much for confidentiality.

And to insult to injury she also talked about me and my husband's travel info. And to think APFA gives her access to our our personal flying and pay records. Kind of scary.

The mean girls (Chinery's clan) are posting on AAll us FA's site about Bob Ross.

They say Bob's hiding documents and altering the narrative. This links to most of his docs field in his lawsuit which can be downloaded for free for anyone who wants to see the truth. It shows

1. 2 of the 3 claims filed by the union against Bob and Eugenio have been dismissed, and #72

2. If you think Bob's hiding documents you may want to read the Amended Motion to compel #136, 137, 138, not to mention the 2 other motions to compel filed in the case 140,141, 142 and 143, 144, 145.

Doesn't seem like APFA has complained about Bob withholding any documents to date or hiding anything at all, but Julie and Erik, well they seem to have something to hide.

Also, you should note that Bob has moved to join all other National Officers after learning that they were all in on the conspiracy and filed evidence of it. #125, 126, 127

Yeah, there's some truth for you.

Sounds to me like they don't want Bob talking at all, so best to call him a thief and a liar so no one believes anything he says.

Question any person filled with this much determination to spew this much hate.

You do realize that Bob offered a mutual walk away and the Union refused and now has spent hundreds of thousands of your dollars going after Bob? You also realize that as President accounts were set up under Bob's name that OTHERS used? Your "feelings" are NOT FACTS. Emotion and or hurt feelings aside exam the facts.

If the board approved items, they should own it. Stop fighting it. They voted as a whole and should own it as a whole. This has gone on long enough. Just because someone has come in to stir the pot doesn't always mean it's right. The "checks and balances" of the union signed off. You can't come back years later and say oooops and then trash and tarnish someone's reputation. On principle alone, this should never be occurring.

April 2, 2016 is the date her vexatious obsession with me began! One (1) day into office is when this psychotic episode began. All because she was not given the Government Affairs position that she DEMANDED but was not qualified for nor was the position open for appointment. She "Demanded" to be given someone else's position because she wanted to be in D.C. where both AFA and her future husband Joe Burns was located. Absolutely no one in the Ross Administration was promised or given an appointment as a condition of support.

7 1/2 years of psychotic torment against me and my Family because she didn't get what she wanted. She ignorantly assumed I would be the easy pawn to manipulate into merging with AFA during my term. This was her and AFAs plan and mistake, of which I have been paying dearly for every since.

CEASE AND DESIST/NOTICE OF FUTURE LEGAL ACTION

Dear Ms. [REDACTED]

This office is legal counsel to Joseph Warren Burns ("Burns") in his capacity as General Counsel to the Association of Flight Attendants. You are now advised not to communicate with Burns for any reason and that all future correspondence regarding this matter be directed to my attention. This demand is being sent to your attention as Burns is fully aware that both of you and other individuals have engaged in an individual and collectively undertaking through Facebook with the malicious and defamatory intent of damaging Burn's outstanding business and community reputation. You, along with several other individuals, have publicly and repeatedly questioned Burn's professional licensure and achievements. In addition, Burns has also received information from reputable third parties indicating, without equivocation, that various individuals have questioned his professional licensure and professional achievement as a direct result of your various postings. I have all the various posts by you and other individuals in my file at the present time.

To set the record straight, once and for all, please be advised that Burns was admitted to the practice of law in the State of Minnesota on November 20, 2001, and the statement of admission is attached as Exhibit A. A copy of Burn's current legal license is attached hereto as Exhibit B. Thirdly, an up-to-date copy of a Certificate of Good Standing from the Minnesota Supreme Court on behalf of Burns is attached as Exhibit C.

Considering these facts, not only are your posts factually incorrect but you clearly failed to undertake prior due diligence before posting your comments. Furthermore, you and several other people utilized social media to question Burns' professional licensure and thus create inferences throughout that Burns was not suited for the general counsel's position which he has held for many years. Your conduct herein is considered libel per se as the express wording you employed and the efforts to spread misleading and factually inaccurate information about Burns expressly set forth unethical and dishonest conduct on behalf of Burns. The written and presumably verbal dissemination of these misleading and defamatory statements has caused irreparable professional and economic damage to Burns' otherwise impeccable professional and business reputation.

As a result, Burns demands the following immediate action:

- A. For you to immediately remove the previously published Facebook posts involving Burns, and as identified in this demand and that evidence of such removal of all posts be provided to me by or within seven days of receipt of this demand
- B. That you issue a retraction of similar size and placement on each social media page as your original defamatory posts and provide a copy of each retraction to me within seven days of receipt of this demand.
- C. You will remove any defamatory posts from social media pages.
- D. That you will not participate and/or publish any further social media postings questioning Burns' bar admission or licensure and,
- E. If you comply with the requirements in sections A through D above, Burns will immediately release you from all future liability associated with this matter.

If you fail to fully comply with any the above requirements, Burns is prepared to seek all available civil remedies against you including, but not limited to, libel and slander, invasion of privacy, and/or interference with advantageous business relationships and, in addition, seek compensation for punitive damages and reasonable attorney's fees.

Burns reserves all his legal and equitable rights and interests in this matter.

Your immediate attention to this matter is advised.

Very truly yours,

David S. Katz, Esq.

Nena Martin Was Just as Bad as Ross and Vargas--She Just Got Away With It.

Nena Martin served as National Vice President with Bob Ross and Eugenio Vargas and engaged in the much of the same type of financial activity as her co-national officers. Ross and Vargas were banned for life from holding office but Martin did escaped discipline.

Although Martin escaped accountability for her actions due to technicalities and a flawed APFA oversite process, Martin engaged in much of the very same activity that banned her fellow national officers for life. She also has been a leading supporter of covering up corruption in APFA.

Here is the leading areas of concern about Martin and why she is unfit to hold office in APFA ever again.

Martin, Vargas, and Dunaway Changed the Vacation Payout Formula to Inflate Their Salaries--Forced to Renav APFA

Eugenio Vargas was banned for life by Arbitrator Ruben Armendariz for changing the vacation payout formula. Vargas, Martin and Dunaway changed a vacation payout formula that had been in place for decades. What they did shows the contempt they have for working flight attendants at American Airlines.

If working flight attendants get vacation buyback we do not get any premiums or per diem on the vacation payout of course because we are not flying the trip. However, Martin and Vargas added back in Meal Expense Allowance (MEA) and other expense items on their vacation payouts, inflating their salaries by thousands of dollars. As this was not for actual work performed, they should not have been receiving meal expense payments on their vacation payout.

This change in policy was done over the objections of the APFA staff accounting department according to their testimony at the Vargas hearing, against language in the policy manual, and violating decades of practice. As longtime APFA Executive Board member Patrick Hancock explained in a blistering letter, Martin and Vargas had changed their pay using a new formula which added in "things like profit sharing, MEA/SAF, Grand Slam rewards, and who knows what all. This New Formula was not approved by the BOD or EC...." (V Ex 99)

In fact, the formula was kept secret from the APFA Board of Directors. They cut the amount of vacation payout into four separate payments and signed the authorizations for each other three days before they left office. In previous administrations we are told that incoming officers would sign the payment authorizations to avoid such improprieties. Here they signed their own payouts right before they left office. Vargas testified that he had not informed the BOD that he had changed the formula.

The Arbitrator took a dim view of this and this appears to be a large part of why Vargas was banned for life from holding office as the arbitrator determined: "It is this arbitrators Opinion, Vargas attempted to benefit monetarily and thus failed in his fiduciary duty as National Treasurer by willfully changing the formula for the payouts for Bob Ross, Nena Martin and Marcy Dunaway as well as himself."

Report Abuse

Nena Martin was equally responsible for these efforts but was not able to be charged because of timeliness issues. Rather than simply admit she was wrong it took much Board involvement and threats of legal action to get her to simply pay back the money. The ethical thing would have been to admit she was wrong and readily pay back our dues.

Martin's Meal Expenses Were as Bad or Worse than Vargas and Ross's

We examined Martin's expenses in detail and even prepared a demonstrative exhibit for the arbitration hearing. The arbitrator did not allow evidence at the hearing and Martin escaped justice. But to be clear, Martin had the same level of meal expenses as Ross and Vargas and even perhaps a bit worse.

This includes the frequent lunches at the golf club with the officers, getting both per diem and actual meals while on trips, covering up what was purchased at the lunches or dinners and frequently ordering in meals. We estimate the amount of meal expenses that were in violation of policy and/or IRS regulations to be over $15,000. On top of that, she benefited from Ross and Vargas's charged meals as they took turns paying with the APFA credit card for each other. She has not repaid any of the money.

At the Vargas arbitration hearing, Martin represented Vargas and took the position that no financial controls were necessary. We called her defense the "everyone is stealing so that makes it ok" defense. But a review of the record showed the Martin, Ross, Vargas's meal expenses were far worse than the Glading administration. And just because others were violating policy does not make it right.

According to their theory, APFA officers should be able to buy themselves lunches or dinners as long as they claim they are discussing APFA business. That is not the standard in the business world, is not a valid IRS expense, and is expressly not provided for in the policy manual. But to this day, she has never admitted it was wrong. Presumably back in office, she would continue her old ways, at our expense. Martin even defends APFA reps double dipping by claiming per diem and actual expenses.

Martin claims she was exonerated because the arbitrator refused to take evidence on the merits of her case. But the arbitrator said at the hearing that APFA was obligated to investigate these credit card charges so he would not proceed with a hearing. He basically washed his hands of the matter which demonstrates the lack of oversight at APFA.

According to the Ross lawsuit, APFA has done an audit of Martin and Dunaway and we believe the results show Martin owes APFA thousands of dollars, probably $15,000. We call on APFA to release the audit and also call on Martin, since she is running for national office, to abide by the results of the audit.

What is remarkable, is that these individuals believe that national officers can be given a credit card and not have to adhere to any IRS regulations or APFA policy. That they can simply anytime say "oh I am going out to lunch with my coworker" so I will put it on the employer's credit card. Try that in the real world.

Martin Covered Up the Theft of Furniture.

Nena Martin defended Eugenio Vargas and his conduct at the arbitration hearing and her conduct was nothing short of appalling. At the hearing we demonstrated that Vargas stole the furniture from prior officers originally valued at thousands of dollars.

Now, you would think that Martin would be alarmed about this but she actually defended this conduct. However, along with Miami Base Vice President Heidi Morgan she is a leading supporter of corruption within APFA. Now certainly everyone, including Vargas, is entitled to a defense. But the fact that Martin chose to spend her time and effort defending him is a conflict of interest. As a past officer and a candidate for office her first loyalty should be to the membership and our dues money.

Even worse, Martin was in office with Ross and Vargas and was at meetings where the BOD discussed the stolen furniture. She had an obligation to protect APFA property. Much of the furniture was in the APFA office when Vargas secretly moved it to his personal residence. Martin failed to speak up.

When she was on the Board of Directors she used her position to argue members should not be allowed to see financial information. Then rather than joining our effort to recoup APFA funds, Martin spends her time defending corruption.

We Need to Move Forward, Not Backwards

This blog is non-political in regards to the APFA elections. For that reason, we will not speak about her lack of accomplishments in her term as National Vice President. But we will relentlessly speak out on corruption issues and any candidates must pass a litmus test on anti-corruption efforts.

Martin fails that test overwhelmingly as her record is one of lack of transparency, failure to adhere to policy, violations of the APFA policy manual, and defense of corrupt practices at APFA.

WHEREAS, APFA Policy Manual Section 1.E.1 states “The National Officers, voting Board of Directors, Ad-Hoc Members of the Executive Committee, members of any APFA Negotiating committee, Base Vice Presidents, National Chairs, and Regional Representatives are required to maintain confidentiality in connection with conducting the business of the Union. Every person holding one (1) or more of these positions shall sign a Code of Confidentiality;” and

WHEREAS, APFA representatives are bound by APFA Policy Manual Section 1.E to safeguard confidential communications and information disseminated to them in their official capacity; and

WHEREAS, all members of the APFA have a right to individual privacy under Article II, Section 3.C of the APFA Constitution; and

WHEREAS, all officers, agents and other representatives of the APFA occupy a position of trust in relation to APFA and its members as a group. Therefore representatives have a duty to refrain from dealing with APFA as an adverse party or on behalf of any adverse party in any matter connected with their duties and from holding or acquiring any pecuniary or personal interest which conflicts with the interests of such organization pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act; and

WHEREAS, breaches of confidentiality may undermine the APFA negotiations strategy, may harm APFA’s position in litigation, and erode the trust of its members.

APFA

BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, any National Officers, voting Board of Directors, Ad-Hoc Members of the Executive Committee, members of any APFA Negotiating committee, Base Vice Presidents, National Chairs, Regional Representatives or other representative of APFA who violates the APFA Policy Manual Section 1.E or APFA Code of Confidentiality will be sent a letter admonishing the breach of confidentiality and be barred from receiving any confidential and privileged information for an amount of time necessary, in the judgment of the Board of Directors, to protect the interests of the APFA and its members; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that APFA Policy Manual Section 1.E.1 include the following edits:

“The National Officers, voting Board of Directors, Ad-Hoc Members of the Executive Committee, members of any APFA Negotiating committee, Base Vice Presidents, National Chairs, ~~and~~ Regional Representatives, and other APFA Representatives are required to maintain confidentiality in connection with conducting the business of the Union. Every person holding one (1) or more of these positions shall sign a Code of Confidentiality.” and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, APFA Policy Manual Section 1.E be updated to include the following paragraph:

4. Failure to execute or comply with the APFA Code of Confidentiality will result in exclusion from receiving confidential and proprietary information. The Board of Directors shall determine the duration of exclusion from receiving confidential and proprietary information. A letter will be sent to the offender by the APFA Board of Directors describing the breach of confidentiality and the consequence.
